Hi Kitchener – Aldwyn Roberts
They make you feel nice – in death ---
The celebrated and honored your life and contributions ---
Maestro lit a candle – humming ---
And the procession halts ---
As Flag Woman “Dally” explains the “mysticism” of carnival --- Whispering in your ears ---
No rum, no wine, no woman, but water, air, and fire --- fuh so ---
The elements ---
A natural high – you dig ---
Kitch laugh – and bump she rump ---
Lord Shorty “I” – interrupted – and started praying ---
John L. sang with melody chanting – the chorus.
Kaiso (calypso) and pan in heaven.com.
No moko jumbie – no stick fighting...
No masquerading – no mask ---
As the imageries are elucidated
Eric Williams bouncing without hearing aid
C.L.R. James chanting the chorus
Kaiso and pan in heaven.com
Papa Doc, Burnham, and Eric Gary sidelined scuffling.
Geddes Granger conducting the band
Cheddie Jagan beating conga drums...
Michael Manley playing tenor pan and
Maurice Bishop and Rosy Douglas playing guitar pan --- with
Walter Rodney on bass drum
Kaiso and pan in heaven.com.
The rivers flowing ---
Waves beating on the rocks...
And the wind gushing hard...
With flames – burning – burning – the elements – the elements ---
Kaiso and pan in heaven.com
Hi Kitch – Aldwyn Roberts...
